NEW, RARE AND BEAUTIFUL PLANTS.

Washington D.C.

[Handwritten signature]

DRACÆNA SANDERIANA (Introduced by F. Sander & Co.)

"A new and indispensable plant, useful for all kinds of decoration."

The best of all variegated Dracænas, with pea green and ribbon white markings, being bright and highly decorative, free growing, and possessing extraordinary lasting properties. To demonstrate its remarkable vigorous and robust constitution, the same plant, exhibited at the Great International Show at Ghent, was also exhibited at London, Chicago, Leipzig, and other Shows, having travelled a distance of 10,000 miles, retaining its foliage and strength during the whole period of its long journey.

"Dracæna Sanderiana comes from West Africa, and undoubtedly has a great future as a decorative plant for the table. Foliage white and green and very substantial. Plant vigorous and easy to grow."—American Florist. Price on application.

STROBILANTHES DYERIANUS (Introduced by F. Sander & Co.)

"This plant will undoubtedly become universally popular, on account of its brilliant and exquisite coloring, its extraordinary easy growth and usefulness as a decorative plant. It surpasses the finest Coleus, Begonias, or Bertolonias, in the exquisite coloring of the leaves, besides which the long racemes of lovely violet blossoms with which the plant is covered in mid-winter greatly enhance its value, beauty, and usefulness. The undulation on the surface of the foliage is furnished with a blueish metallic hue, shading into light rose with a light green margin. It will prove a valuable acquisition, both as a bedding and decorative plant."

"Strobilanthes Dyerianus was shown in superb condition by Messrs. Sander & Co., and was universally admired."—London Garden. $1 each.

ALOCASIA WATSONIANA (Introduced by F. Sander & Co.)

"Ever since the introduction of Alocasia Sanderiana no other species has appeared having such a bold character and such a striking combination of colors. The surface of the foliage is olive green, and furnished with prominent white veins, the underside is of a dark reddish purple, they often measure 2 feet in length and 1 foot in width, and arranged on leaf stalks $2\frac{1}{2}$ and 3 feet high."

"Alocasia Watsoniana, named in honor of the assistant curator of Kew. Leaf shield shaped, of a bronze green color, with silver veins and prominent ribs. Back of leaf velvety crimson. A stove plant introduced from Sumatra."—American Florist.

ARISÆMA FIMBRIATA (Introduced by F. Sander & Co.)

THE COBRA HEAD AROID.

"An interesting and curious plant, producing blossoms of an extraordinary character, resembling the head of a cobra (hence its name), the spathe being striped with purple, enclosing a hairy spadix that hangs out to some 10 or 12 inches."

ACALYPHA HAMILTONIANA.

"This is a decided acquisition, and differs from all known Acalyphas, having a graceful and pleasing habit foliage, finely toothed, furnished with clear white margins. Grown in the full sun this plant takes on a charming rosy white and yellow coloring, and is a highly decorative new kind." $1.00 each.

DIPLADENIA HARRISII.

"This is a very handsome climber, a large specimen in the Lily House at Kew, bearing several of its long shoots clothed with racemes of large yellow Allemanda-like flowers, tinged with red at base of the lobes. A fine plant not surpassed by any of its congeners, whether we consider the size and beauty and fragrance of its flowers of metallic lustre or its entire habit. It is much more amenable to ordinary treatment than the Dipladenias of the Amabilis type. It is a first-rate garden plant." $1.50 each.

RANUNCULUS CORTUSÆFOLIUS (Introduced by F. Sander & Co.)

"The giant Buttercup. A splendid winter and early spring flowering plant for the Conservatory with enormous leaves and large bunches or heads of glowing yellow blossoms." $1.00.

PANDANUS BAPTISTII.

"The habit of this plant is all that can be desired, its foliage arches gracefully on all sides very narrow, they are wholly green, except occasionally they are seen with several yellow longitudinal lines. For vases, the dinner table, etc., this beautiful plant lends itself admirably, and is one of the most useful decorative plants yet introduced."

SAINTPAULIA IONANTHA.

The leaves are dark green, of fleshy consistence and downy surface, spread themselves laterally just over the soil and form as it were a rosette, in the centre of which spring up quite a bouquet of flowers, violet-like both in color and shape, but $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch in diameter, and gracefully borne on stalks 2 to 3 inches high. The clear violet blue tint of the corolla gradually shades darker towards the centre, where the anthers form a compact golden cluster, contrasting most beautifully with the delicate hue around them. The further contrast between the wealth of graceful flowers and their soft emerald carpeting give the entire plant, which is of neat and compact habit, an indescribable charm. Ready in May.

ALLAMANDA WILLIAMSII.

"In habit of growth it is dissimilar to any other kind, and is quite dwarf, in no way resembling a climber, but forming a compact bush with trusses of bloom at every point, and having from two to four expanded blooms on each extremity at the same time, and buds innumerable, it continues flowering the whole Summer, and with proper management, in the Winter also. The flowers are from $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter, of a very rich yet delicate tint of yellow, and they are most deliciously scented. We have grown plants in 5-inch pots, which produced masses of flower, some with six or eight shoots, none of which exceed 13 inches in length." 75 cents each.

ALLAMANDA MAGNIFICA.

"A fine strong-growing plant, somewhat in the way of A. nobilis, so that it will make one of our best Exhibition plants. The flowers are freely produced in large branching clusters, and are about 5 inches in diameter, clear yellow, with a deep, orange-yellow throat, which is very conspicuous. As the plant is of a strong habit of growth, it will be necessary to give it a slight check before the flowering season." 75 cents each.

ALLAMANDA VIOLACEA.

"We have much pleasure in offering plants of this most distinct and beautiful species; they can be relied on as being true to name, they being obtained from the plants at Kew. The flowers are violet blue and very distinct." 75 cents each.

DICHORISANDRA SIEBERTI.

Long, broad leaves, of a dark green, with broad, white streaks, a very elegant and graceful plant. $1.50 each.

ANTHURIUM VEITCHII ALBA.

A grand new Anthurium, which has the foliage of Veitchii, and a broad, pure white spath. One of the finest varieties in Anthuriums.

CLEMATIS STANLEYANA.

A VERY DISTINCT SPECIES FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

"Other exhibits from Kew were Clematis Stanleyana, which is a really pleasing plant when planted in a sunny border in rich soil and treated like Anemone Japonica, its elegant silvery foliage, numerous rose-purple nodding flowers and ornamental fruits being effective toward the end of summer."—Garden. $1.50 each.

SOLANUM WENDLANDII.

"Three enormous bunches of bloom were shown, and which is admitted to be one of the very finest stove-climbers in cultivation. At Kew there is now a plant of it trained against a rafter in a warm house, and bearing a great number of large heads of rich blue flowers. It is emphatically a plant for every stove." South, this grand plant will undoubtedly succeed out doors during summer. 50 cents.

SOLANUM AZUREUM.

"It is of robust growth, soon making fine specimens that will climb over and cover a porch with the most handsomely cut foliage. In mild localities it is covered during the late summer months with hundreds of clusters of large, lavender-blue flowers. The flowers are succeeded by bright scarlet berries, remaining perfect for a long time." 25 cents each.

PHYLLOCACTUS PEACOCKII.

"We recently saw this in bloom at Kew, it is a fine example of a splendid genus. The flowers are very large, the outer segments crimson, and the inner ones shot with a lovely pellucid satiny purple shade. A superb contrast of color,"—Garden. $1.00 each.

HYBRID JAMARYLLIS.

This is a hybrid raised between Amaryllis Belladonna and Brunsvigia Josephiæ. Color, a brilliant rose purple. Very rich and striking. A very brilliant and showy flower.

HEXACENTRIS MYSORENSIS.

An old but elegant vine, flowers in long pendant racemes. The lobes are yellow with broad margins of scarlet, the color of the tube purplish. The flowers are about two inches across, and of good substance. The effects of the numerous racemes borne by a large plant is extremely fine. 50 cents.

SWAINSONA GALEGIFOLIA ALBA.

A pretty Australian greenhouse shrub, which grows freely and flowers most profusely—long sprays of pure white pea-shaped blooms. 25 cents each.

ROCHEA FALCATA.

A bright flowered succulent, which blooms freely. It has large, closely-packed heads of scarlet crimson flowers, which, though small, are very numerous, and are very showy and distinct. A grand house plant. 50 cents each.

PANCRATIUM FLORIBUNDUM.

A very beautiful and free flowering species. $1 each.

CUPHEA LLAVÆ.

A very pretty plant well covered with brilliant tube-shaded flowers. The colors displayed in this flower is of red, white and blue. 20 cents.

ARALIA OSYANA.

An exceedingly distinct and handsome plant $1.

ARISTOLOCHIA DUCHARTREI.

A medium growing climber Flowers straw color, with brown veining, brown without—distinct species. 50 cents.

RHOPALA CORCOVADENSIS.

A large-leaved, distinct-looking plant, foliage of great substance. For large, fine, tropical foliage, this plant is much admired. $1.50.

DIEFFENBACHIA MEMORIA CORSI.

Handsome green foliage, marbled and blotched with white. 50 cents.

TECOMAS.

TECOMA MACKENII (ROSEA).

"When I visited Grahamstown in 1887, T. Mackenii was one of the most strikingly beautiful of the many plants I saw there. The finest specimen had taken possession of an old trunk of Erythrina Caffra and had formed a great sheaf of shoots ten feet through and fifteen feet high. It was not even in an enclosure, but stood on a piece of waste ground by the side of the road. I saw it in full flower, and there were hundreds of very large racemes of trumpet-shaped flowers quite three inches long and broad, colored bright rosy-lilac, with a few darker pencilings and a blotch of yellow in the throat. The mass was a glorious picture, such as I had never seen made by any Bignoniaceous plant. —W. WATSON." 30 cents.

"Stans, a glory of golden yellow flowers;" very quick growing; it likes a good soil and warm situation. 25 cents.

Velutina, similar to the last, with golden yellow flowers similar to an Allamanda. 30 cents.

All three succeed admirably planted out during summer, in a warm situation. They flower freely during latter part of summer. Should be lifted early in fall with other half-hardy plants.

LATHYRUS SPLENDENS (Pride of California.)

A beautiful perennial pea. The flowers are intensely brilliant, of a deep, velvety crimson. They come from the axil of every leaf in spikes of five to ten large blossoms, two inches across. 50 cents.

LATHYRUS CALIFORNICUS.

Another species said to be equally beautiful as the last. 30 cents.†

GERMAN IRIS PALLIDA DALMATIANA.

"This is very beautiful, especially when grown in masses, and one gets a skimming of delicate lavender blue, in contrast to the shades of green foliage. The flowers are very large, and the color as delicate and lovely as that of the finest orchid. The most beautiful of all Flag Irises." 40 cents.

[IRIS] GIGANTEA.

A very distinct species, very large flowers, color ivory white, with orange yellow base. 40 cents.
